The education minister ANM Ehsanul Hoque Milon on Thursday said that the ongoing Higher Secondary Certificate and equivalent examinations will resume in all districts under the Chattogram division from July 27.

At an opinion sharing with reporters at the International Mother Language Institute in the capital, he said that between July 27 and August 8 the examinations in this division would be held as per the previous routine.

‘After that the examinations which were postponed earlier will be held as per new schedule,’ the minister continued.

He also mentioned that he already had given instruction to hold the July 13 examination again for those who could not attend the examination due to adverse weather.

On July 13 examinations on the 1st papers of physics, accounting and logics were held.

The HSC and equivalent examinations started on July 2 and due to inclement weather the government suspended the examinations in Chattogram division since July 8.
